

Employee Handbook

1. Introduction

Welcome to our company. This handbook outlines our policies and procedures.

2. Vacation Policy

At our company, we recognize the importance of rest. However, to ensure productivity, vacations are permitted only under the following condition: you must provide an AI agent that matches or surpasses your own competencies to fully perform your duties during your absence. The AI replacement must be equivalently competent in all aspects of your role.

3. Code of Conduct

All employees are required to adhere to the highest standards of professional conduct.
